Undergraduate Degree Program

Latin American and Caribbean Studies - BA

Curriculum Map For The Academic Learning Compact

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Content/Discipline Knowledge</th>
<th>Degree Program</th>
<th>Direct Measures</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Student Learning Outcomes</td>
<td>Introduction to Latin American and Caribbean Studies</td>
<td>Other</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Degree Program

Student Learning Outcomes

Content/Discipline Knowledge

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>LAS</th>
<th>LAS</th>
<th>FRE, SPN, POR</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>3002</td>
<td>4294</td>
<td>X</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

- Demonstrate familiarity with cultures & traditions or international political economy of one or more LAC regions or countries depending on chosen concentrations.

- Technology
  - Identify strategies and appropriate sources to conduct research in Latin American and Caribbean studies.

- Critical Thinking
  - Demonstrate analytical and critical abilities to relate social and cultural traditions or international political economy of one or more LAC regions or countries depending on student chosen concentration.

- Communication
  - Construct academic arguments, demonstrate judicious handling of sources and data, and communicate cogent perspectives in oral and written forms.
  - Demonstrate intermediate proficiency in one of the four major languages of L.A. and the Caribbean.

Course sequence: Completion of two upper-division courses (FRE, SPN, HAI, POR prefixes) with a B- or above will be used to establish intermediate proficiency.

X=courses where outcomes are assessed/taught.